

Quae editions

Quae editions

a publishing house focusing on natural environments, resources and the environment

Éditions Quae is a single publishing house covering four research organizations: Cemagref, Cirad, Ifremer and Inra.

Presentation

Its catalogue includes over 1000 works covering science and technology, and also human sciences: life and Earth sciences, natural landscapes, the environment, agriculture and crop production, forests and silviculture, animal rearing and products, fishing, aquatic and aquacultural resources, food and human nutrition, and society. It lists books but also comic strips, CD-ROMs and DVDs.

Éditions Quae hopes to become a benchmark for scientific publishing, responding to the expectations and concerns of a demanding and attentive readership keen to gain access to reliable, quality scientific information. To this end, its publishing team is working with authors chosen among the foremost specialists in each field.

Editorial policy

Éditions Quae's editorial policy centres on three main fields: natural environments, resources and the environment.

Sales/Distribution

Éditions Quae runs its own mail order operations and sales and distribution to booksellers in France. To distribute its products more efficiently worldwide, Éditions Quae has a network of local partners, distributors and booksellers.

Yes