

Pig Project Development Website

Pig Project Development Website

The aim of this website is to improve the knowledge about managing farm pigs. Based on sound principles and well-researched practices, the site covers the most critical areas of pig management.

The aim of this website is to build your knowledge about managing farm pigs. Based on sound principles and well-researched practices, the site covers the most critical areas of pig management. It provides sets of electronic lecture notes, tables, images and video. A classroom in the computer - start with fundamental principles and progress through to practical applications.

Si